

I am very much in support of wireless phone number portability between carriers. I have felt trapped with my current carrier simply because I do not wish to change my cell phone number. I applaud the Chicago Tribune for directing its readers to this comments website.